

A man and a woman are shown from the chest up, smiling and looking upwards. They are positioned in the lower half of the frame. The background is a dark night sky filled with numerous small, bright white stars. A vibrant green aurora borealis is visible, appearing as a dense field of thin, vertical lines of light that shimmer and flicker. The overall mood is romantic and hopeful.

SYNOPSIS

Starlit Promises Synopsis: Emma Collins, a passionate and introverted astronomer in her 30s, returns to her picturesque hometown for a summer job at the local observatory. Her apartment is cluttered with telescopes, star charts, and books, a testament to her dedication to her work. As she clicks through images of celestial bodies on her laptop, a glimmer of determination shines in her eyes. The quiet town awakens with the sun casting a warm glow over children riding bikes and neighbors exchanging greetings. Emma stands outside the observatory, her heart swelling with hope as she reads a congratulatory message confirming her research position. Meanwhile, Jack Lawson, a charming and down-to-earth bookshop owner in his 30s, stocks shelves and hums to himself. His tranquil routine is interrupted when he spots Emma walking by his shop, triggering a flood of memories and a spark of intrigue. Emma's return to the town is filled with nostalgia as she walks through the bustling town square and settles on a park bench, lost in thought. A child with a star-shaped balloon jogs her memory of simpler times. Jack, noticing Emma, steps outside his shop and approaches her with a mix of surprise and hesitation. Their reunion is electric, filled with unspoken words and memories of stargazing nights. As they sit together on a park bench, they reminisce about the past, their laughter and warmth reigniting old feelings. Jack confesses his admiration for Emma's nerdy passion for the stars, and their connection deepens. However, Emma is torn between her dedication to her research and the resurfacing emotions for Jack. Emma's nights at the observatory are filled with whispers to the stars and solitary contemplation. Jack, bringing her hot cocoa, joins her on the rooftop, their fingers brushing and hearts pounding in unison.*
